11

Actions in Combat

1 round is about 6 seconds long, and 10 rounds is 1 minute. On your turn you may move (a move action), attack (or cast a spell, move your speed again, or some similarly large action — called a standard action), and/or do some smaller action (a minor action). You may also ready an action, withholding it until a predetermined trigger occurs. Finally, you can take any number of free actions. The GM may also occasionally let players react to actions out of turn without readying.

Initiative: If needed, an easy way to determine initiative bonuses is to give characters wearing no armor +6, light armor +3, and heavy armor +0.

Position and Engagement

Position is abstracted for mental or gridless play. The GM will also describe terrain or objects for you to interact with.

Far: It takes two move actions to move from far to close range. If you're far, you can only make ranged attacks.

Close: Creatures who are close are one move action away from each other. When you move to attack someone, any close, unengaged enemies can try to intercept/engage with you. A Subterfuge check, opposed by Athletics, prevents this.

Engaged: If you can make melee attacks against an enemy, you're engaged with them. When a creature moves away from an enemy they're engaged with, as a reaction that enemy (or enemies), may use a weapon to make an Opportunity Attack against them. To avoid this a creature may use their standard action to move. The GM may also decide that certain other actions or situations trigger opportunity attacks.

Damage: Subtract any damage that is dealt from the target's hit points. When targets other than the PCs run out of hit points they die. At 0 hit points, PCs become unconscious immediately and must roll DC 15 Athletics checks on every subsequent turn until they fail a save and die, are healed, or are stabilized by an ally (generally a DC 15 Lore check).

Some creatures are vulnerable or resistant to particular types of damage, like fire — when hit with damage of that type, such creatures take double or half of it, respectively.

GMs should tell the players the damage types a monster is resistant or vulnerable to. Use your own judgement with stuff like fire spreading, cold and freezing, undead and poison, etc.

Ongoing Effect Rolls: When an effect is specified as (ongoing), roll an unmodified d20 at the end of your turn. If it's 11 or above, the effect ends immediately.

Recovery: You recover up to your maximum hit points after eight hours of sleep/rest. After resting for 10 minutes, characters below half their maximum hit points are restored to half. Major injuries, such as broken bones or lost limbs, don't heal through rests.

Spellcasting

At the beginning of each day, most spellcasters roll on the table to see which magical spells they prepare. Each spell rolled may be cast twice that day. If, during the previous day they never used a particular spell, they may either choose to keep it for next day, or to re-roll it. Many races and classes also get spells which they may cast every day without having to roll, either a set number of times, or at will.

15

Psion

+1 BWAM, 18 HP, +2 Athletics, +2 Subterfuge, +2 Lore

Roll two powers each day on your own list; you can cast them at will that day. You can cast Psychokinesis at will.

- 1 Body Equilibrium: For 1 hour you can't be forcibly moved, and can ignore tricky terrain like ice or mud.

- 3 Tongues: For 1 hour you know all spoken languages.
- 4 Sending: You telepathically send a 25 word message.
- 5 True Sight: For 1 hour the subject can see through all illusions, invisibility, darkness, and shapeshifting.
- 6 Psychometry: You are able to see everything that has happened within 10 ft of an object in the last month.
- 7 Emerald Splash: Blast/+5 vs AC/sharp crystals do 8 damage.
- 8 Ego Whip: Ranged/DC 15 Lore for half/9 psychic damage.
- 9 Detect Thoughts: Ranged/DC 18 Lore or Subterfuge/You read the target's surface thoughts.
- 10 Suggestion: Ranged/DC 16 Lore or Subterfuge/The target follows a command you give. It can't be against their nature.

Skills

When you attempt an action with some chance of success or failure, you may be asked to roll a skill check. Skill checks are attempted by rolling a d20 and adding the appropriate skill modifier. If the result is equal to or greater than the difficulty class, the action succeeds. Rolls of 1 are always a failure, and rolls of 20 are always a success. The GM may also decide to treat a check as opposed, and have a player roll off against an enemy, with the higher result winning.

Actions which don't fit into the three types of skill, most often ones relating to perception or luck, are generally rolled without any modifier.

Athletics: Swimming, jumping, forcing doors, dodging, riding, climbing, intimidation, intercepting, pushes, grabs, and so on are all feats of Athletics.

Subterfuge: Sneaking, picking locks, hiding, lying, disguise, forgery, feinting, pickpocketing, avoiding being intercepted, disabling traps, and so on are all feats of Subterfuge.

Lore: Recalling knowledge, researching, operating magical equipment, deciphering magic, negotiation, diplomacy, mental resistance, scholarship, etiquette, stabilizing the dying, and so on are all feats of Lore.

Assisting with Skill Checks: As an action, you may attempt to assist an ally with a check. To do so, you must perform a DC 11 skill check; the skill you use depends on how you try to help. Success gives the ally a +2 bonus on their check, while failure gives a -1 penalty.

- 2 Foaming Plaster: When mixed with water, expands dramatically, then hardens; can be molded into an item.
- 3 Salve of Slipperiness: Makes a surface very slippery.
- 4 Tanglefoot Bag: Acts like a single-target Web spell.
- 5 Potion of the Wind: Grants 60 mph flight for 4 hours.
- 6 Potion of Heroism: Makes subject completely fearless, and grants +2 to AC and ongoing effects rolls.
- 7 Potion of Health: Functions as the spells Heal and Cure.
- 8 Poison: Roll on the poison table. It doesn't denature.
- 9 Alchemist's Spark: Blast/DC 15 Athletics for half damage/13 electricity damage. Can be equipped with mechanical legs to skitter off and detonate on its own.
- 10 Acid Fire: Blast/3 fire (ongoing) and 3 poison (ongoing).

Attacks and Damage

Weapon Attacks: To hit with a weapon/unarmed attack, roll 1d20 and add your weapon's attack bonus — if it is equal to or greater than the target's armor class (AC), the attack hits. Rolls of 1 are always a failure, while rolls of 20 are always a success (a critical hit), and deal double damage, though any other effects and ongoing damage are unaffected.

Your attack bonus is calculated by adding your Base Weapon Attack Modifier (BWAM) and any other applicable bonuses to hit. If using a weapon you don't have proficiency with, you don't add your BWAM.

Dual-wielding: When dual-wielding weapons (including fists), if you have a BWAM of at least +4, you may make an additional attack with your second weapon as part of your first weapon's attack action. However, when you do so you may not add your BWAM to either attack roll. You still may add any other applicable bonuses as normal.

Magic Attacks: Spells can either automatically hit, target AC, or require a skill check by the target. If an attack targets AC, it will work the same way weapon attacks do, and will specify an attack bonus. If an attack requires a skill check to avoid, it will specify a difficulty class (DC). Magic doesn't require a free hand to use.

Spells will generally specify if they're ranged or require touch. Blast spells can hit up to 6 enemies you are close to or engaged with.

This game was designed for one-offs and spur-of-the-moment games. It has no progression, and relatively little mechanical customization: simply choose a race, class, and weapons.

The exact capabilities of things have been purposely left vague. In this game, things like combat are really only as interesting as you allow them to be. Encourage the players to use their abilities in ways that allow them to solve their problems creatively, and reward them for attempting to do so.

Dice: All you need is a d20, though a d10 may be of use. If you're just using a d20, for a d10 ignore the first digit, and treat 0 as 10. For tables with five entries you can split the d20 into fifths, or just re-roll until you get a number on the list.
